

Dear Customer,

Sika® FastFix All Weather: Launch of new improved colours

Sika FastFix All Weather is one of the most popular self-setting jointing compounds on the market, with three new colours recently being added to the range; Charcoal, Flint and Stone. Following the success of these additions, the two original colours of Sika FastFix All Weather have now been improved with the introduction of Deep Grey and Dark Buff into the range.

These new colours follow the current trends in paving stone slabs and provide the ideal solution to complement a range of paving styles.

As a result of these new and improved colours, the current Grey and Buff will be discontinued with stock of the new colours becoming available in late January. At the time of launch, an overlap of new and old colours will occur, however you can be rest assured that the process will be fully managed internally with changes in product codes and barcodes, as well as clear labelling of the colours on the product packaging for ease of identification.

While the colours may be new, the product uses the same unique formula with Active Resin Technology for advanced durability, gives excellent coverage and has the same easy application method that your customers have come to expect.

For more information on the new Sika FastFix All Weather colours, please contact your local Business Development Manager or visit Everbuild.co.uk.
